

Why are rainforests being destroyed?

How much rainforest is being destroyed per second?

- | | | | |
|---------------------|--------------------------|---------------------|--------------------------|
| 1,000m ² | <input type="checkbox"/> | 2,000m ² | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 3,000m ² | <input type="checkbox"/> | 4,000m ² | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 5,000m ² | <input type="checkbox"/> | 6,000m ² | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 7,000m ² | <input type="checkbox"/> | 8,000m ² | <input type="checkbox"/> |

What will happen to the animals in the rainforest if it continues to be destroyed?

We can help stop the destruction of rainforests by recycling our rubbish. What can we recycle?

We can also help by saving electricity and water.

Name:

Class:

Rainforests

One in ten known species live in rainforests.
Circle where the main rainforests are in the world.

Why do you think there are so many different types of animals and plants in the rainforest?

Rainforests have high biodiversity

Animals that live in the rainforest are highly adapted to life in the trees. Visit these animals and describe their adaptations

Orangutan (25)
Adaptations _____

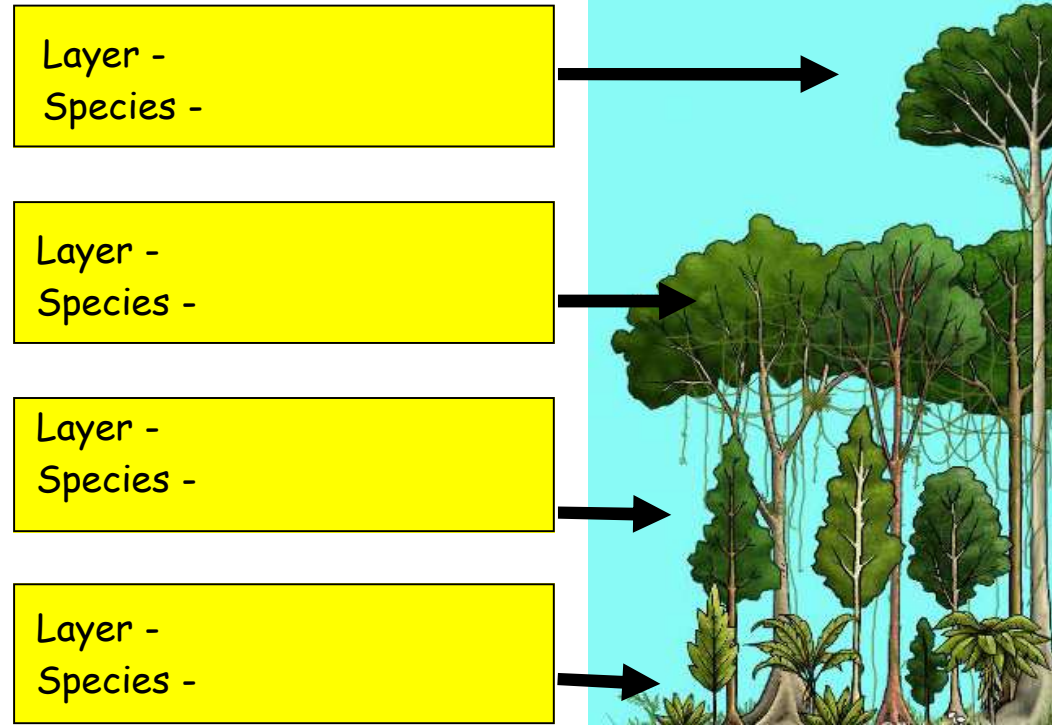

Parrots (6)
Adaptations _____

Spider Monkey (28)
Adaptations _____

There are 4 layers to a rainforest. Label these layers and find some species which inhabit them.

How are insects adapted to life on the forest floor?

Madagascar hissing cockroach (11)
Adaptations _____

