

CELEBRATING 60 YEARS COLCHESTER ZOO

EST. 1963

BY ESME GROUT (AGE 11)

Come inside to a world of wonder,
Where Leopards, Lions and Lemurs thrive.
Come inside rain or thunder,
To a place where Red Pandas strive.

Come inside to a place underwater,
Where talented Sea Lions love to play.
Come inside to the blue yonder,
To a tunnel where they swim all day.

Come inside to a train station,
Where you can ride all around the Zoo.
Come inside you can't resist the temptation,
To a ride of adventure waiting for you.

Come inside to awesome play parks,
Where you can swing and climb.
Come inside and have fun, young sparks,
To a playground of just good times.

Come inside to a haunted house on Halloween,
Where clowns and creepy zombies will make you scream.
Come inside to the ghostly house, its nothing like you've seen,
Just don't bring your little ones, it might give them bad dreams.

Come inside our Wallaby Walkabout,
Where Wallabies bounce and hop.
Come inside, you will want to giggle and shout,
To a place where Wallabies dance and bop.

Come inside and bring a yummy picnic,
Where the ice-cream is the best.
Come inside and give it a lick,
To a place where you can rest.

Come inside and feed the giant Giraffes,
Where there are many Gazelles and Rhinos.
Come inside with a branch, you will have a laugh,
To a place so great you will never want to go.

Come inside and feast your eyes on our amazing show,
Where there's plenty space for you to sit.
Come and see the staff dress up for our Christmas Panto,
To a place where you will love it.

Come inside and walk amongst the very friendly Goats,
Where the naughty Llamas spit and prance.
Come inside you'll have a blast; you'll go home and gloat,
To a place where you can see your heart is now enhanced.

Come inside the room of gifts and souvenirs,
Where you can buy your most loved ones the perfect present.
Come inside its full of stuffed animals and teddy bears,
To a place of wonder and excellence.

Come inside to Colchester Zoo,
Where you'll make magical memories.
Come inside where family fun awaits you,
To a place where I will be...
