

SPECIAL RATES – EXCLUSIVE TO TRADE PARTNERS

All Trade Partners have a 'special buying rate' from Colchester Zoo. The saving that Trade Partners make can be passed onto their customers or alternatively used as an opportunity to generate commission or fundraise for a charity. Trade Partners may sell tickets at any price between the trade rate and the full day admission price available at Colchester Zoo.

To qualify as a Trade Partner a minimum number of 100 tickets must be purchased during the contract term. A minimum of 30 tickets must be purchased in one transaction. The rate Colchester Zoo sells their tickets to Trade Partners varies depending on the season in which the Trade Partner wishes their customers to purchase and visit.

The tickets are valid for visits within Winter or Main Season, depending on the ticket type purchased. Trade Partner tickets admit visitors into Colchester Zoo only, these tickets do not include entry to additional attractions*. Tickets will only be released to the Trade Partner once full payment of the transaction has been cleared by Colchester Zoo's bank account.

All Trade Partner applications are reviewed by Colchester Zoo management. Colchester Zoo reserves the right to refuse Trade Partner applications without justification.

Please note that no refunds can be issued under any circumstance including but not limited to unused Trade Tickets. At our discretion, any unused tickets may be upgraded to open-dated tickets, with an admin fee and difference in costs to be paid. Please note the open-dated tickets fall outside of this contract. Further terms and conditions apply, please see below.

HOW THE SYSTEM WORKS

Trade Partners selling Colchester Zoo tickets must sell the tickets at any price between the trade rate and the full day admission price available at Colchester Zoo. Tickets cannot be sold at a price exceeding the full day admission rate for which Colchester Zoo sells tickets.

Tickets are issued to Trade Partners via Special Delivery to avoid tickets being tampered with on transit. Trade Partners are required to pay postage for these tickets. Colchester Zoo is looking to develop a digital process for Trade Partners, but this is currently in development stages. All Trade Partners will be informed when a digital process is available. Alternatively, tickets can be collected on request.

Every visitor to Colchester Zoo requires a ticket to gain admission into the park (children under 3yrs are admitted free of charge). Trade Partners are required to issue their tickets to their customers, on each ticket they must write the name of the Trade Account so that they can be identified at Colchester Zoo in the case that an enquiry is made. Tickets without a Trade Account name will be refused entry.

Colchester Zoo visitors are required to bring their tickets on the day of their visit and scan at the computerised turnstiles that read the unique bar code and the type of ticket. Trade Partner customers may visit Colchester Zoo on any day within the season purchased (except on Christmas Day). Tickets cannot be used after the contract end date of 31st March 2024. The expiry date is printed upon each individual ticket.

Trade Tickets can only be processed by Colchester Zoo Administration Team between Monday – Friday with at least 72hrs notice required. It is not possible to purchase Trade Partner Tickets at weekends. If you are setting up a new trade account with us this may take up to 7 working days to be processed.

Payment for tickets must be made via BACS. Cheque and cash payments are not accepted. We will issue an invoice for payment.
